

Karsha, and half a Palam of Vrisham. Used as an external application, this oil cures P[^]rna, Vicharchiki, ring worms, malignant sores, and even leucoderma of mature growth or of long origin. Cook a medicinal Ghritam in combination with a decoction of Patola leaves, Kataka, Manjishtha, Shdrivd, Nishi, Jati, Shami, Nimva leaves, and Madhukam. External applications of this Ghritam alleviate pain and arrest secretions of ulcers. By taking a compound of Agnimantha, Vacha, Visa, and Pippali with honey and rock-salt, for seven days, a person is enabled to sing as sweetly as a Kinnara. By taking, for three days in succession, a compound of Apfemarga, Guduchi, Kushtham, ShataVari, Vach⁴, Shankha-pushpi, Abhaya, and Vidanga, taken in equal parts and pounded together with, the admixture of melted cow-butter, one is enabled to learn eight hundred books by heart. Taken with water or clarified butter, Vachi enables a person to learn a thing at the first hearing. One Palam weight of Vach^f taken with milk under the auspices of a solar or lunar eclipse, tends to make its user a profoundly intelligent person. Water boiled with Bhunimva, Nimva, Triphald, Parpata, Patola, Mustakam, and V^fsaka immediately destroys Vjsphotas (carbuncles). Sticks (Vartis) made of XetSleu, fruits, Shankha, Saindhava, Tryushanam, Vacha, Phena, Ranfnjtum, Vidanga and ManaJjshilA pasted together with honey prove curative in cough, less of vision
